Assignment

From the perspective of a local rock, tell a story about what that rock might have seen. Include the characteristics of a Grandfather Rock in your planning and story development.

A story should have characters and a conflict that needs to be resolved. The resolution may be part of the story, but you may also choose to leave the story open-ended. Fill in a proposal template and submit to the teacher.

Students will create a proposal for a story to be told through writing, graphic novel, oral storytelling, video, or performance.
